Offer job postings on your site with Jobline! Your users can browse jobs or search by job title and apply immediately online. Recruiters can add jobs and update job status throughout the hiring process. The administrator can approve or deny any job and controls publishing status. See the demo at Jx Development

Requirements

- Mambo 4.5.2.3 (untested), Joomla 1.0.x or Joomla 1.5 (with legacy mode)
- PHP 4.2.2 or above
- MySQL 4.x or 5.x

Features

- View job openings - Users can list published job openings and sort on different fields.
- Post job openings - Any visitor can post job openings, but they need to be approved by admin before they are published.
- View internship openings - Like job openings but only for internships.
- Post internship opening - Post internship opening.
- Submit application - Users can send applications for job openings.
- Search job postings.
- SEF enabled links.
- All strings separated in separate language files for easy translation.
- Included languages: English, French, Italian, Russian, Swedish, Dutch, Spanish, Polish, Brazilian Portuguese, Norwegian, German Formal, German Informal, Portuguese, Turkish, Catalan
- Frontend HTML is separated into admin editable template files.
- Possibility to have several different sets of templates.
- Uses the Mambo html editor for description field.
- Possibility to customize extra fields for job postings.

- Upload CV document when sending application for a job.
- Works with Joomla 1.5!

Try a demo of Jobline

There is a Demo of Jobline installed here on the site that you can use to try out the frontend functionality of Jobline. I will try to get a separate site installed where you can try out the backend as well.

Installation

Just install the component as according to the Joomla documentation.

Information

If you have any bugs to report, or want to make a feature suggestion, or just want to inform me of your site running this component you can write about it on the forums at my Joomla site which you can find at this address: Jx Development

All components and modules I've released are available from that site so if you are looking for more Joomla extensions, feel free to visit.

If you like this component you can encourage the development by donating a few dollars to me via PayPal on the address Olle@Johansson.com
